We had four boats racing for our last event of the year. Wind was light to non-existent, but did build a tiny bit as the afternoon wore on. We raced starting south, then SW green, and S center yellow to port, and then back north to finish.

We got in 10 heats, even though we had to pause after the end of heat 8 to retrieve Bill's boat when it de-masted right after the finish of the heat. With the other three boats pushing, we managed to get Bill's boat to shore. It was a quick fix to re-attach the back stay so he could sail the last two heats.

The fleet had light winds at the beginning of the afternoon, starting north with port side roundings of NE orange, NW green and then finish. After the first six heats, a second lap was added, rounding the west starting mark to port then leaving the other two northern marks to port and then finish. The wind picked up to moderate at times after the fifth heat. They had fun! The tie break for second place was broken in Martin's favor, since he had more first place finishes than Mike.

Gifford sailed Jim Sheibner's #52, which I brought to the pond as a loaner Soling. It was nice to see #52 back on the pond. We had plenty of wind at the start of racing, which tapered off as time when by. We started north, with port roundings on NE orange, NW green and then finish. After the fifth heat we added in the SW green before the finish, and then added the SE orange for the 10th and last heat. We took time out to answer questions from bystanders and had one interested party sailing Bill's boat between heats.

Four Solings sailed in light to moderate winds on Saturday . We started at noon and raced seven heats. We started to the north, rounding the green NW mark to port, then passing on the east side of west orange starting mark, heading on south to round the SE orange mark to port and then north to finish.

The course worked fairly well, however right-of-way encounters with boats sailing to and from the green mark were challenging. We would have been better off if we had an offset mark to round as well as the green mark to avoid the fleet sailing back on itself. Mike W, had some boat control issues and may try to switch out the transmitter receiver pair on his boat.

Five skippers showed up at Noon to beat the heat – it didn't help much. For the most part, the winds were very light and, when present, variable. Both short and long heats were raced, with more of the shorter heats to get to ten races and not stretch the afternoon out. The most popular circuit was south to the green (port) east to orange (port) north to the mid white (port) west to the mid yellow (Starboard) north to the green (north) and finish.

Gifford joined us at the pond Saturday, but we did not have a spare boat ready for him to sail, so he kindly offered to serve as RD. For the early heats the wind was about twice as shifty and uncertain as usual which is saying something.
Gifford had us sailing a variety of courses. We started south for all of them. Heats 1-4 used the southern and northern marks as gates, however we all chose the western marks due prevailing winds. Heats 5-8: we made port turns around all southern then northern marks and had to pass between the two start marks going north (heats 7 & 8 used only the south marks). Heats 9-15 used SW green to port, E white to port, W yellow to starboard, NW green to starboard and then finish.

A good day of competitive one-design racing using north and south bouys as gates. Gifford had a very good day on his return to the fleet. Boat #71 was hampered by wonky rig settings. Boat #56 was (finally) penalized 1 point in heat #9 for being on course side after finishing.

Four Soling skippers enjoyed mostly good winds at the pond and got in 12 heats. The course we used started north, rounding NW green to starboard, far white starting mark to starboard, then SW green to port, SE orange to port and back north to finish. Paul Boucher joined us for a while and said he hoped to get his Soling in the water for our next event on May 4th.

The Saturday Soling races were fun with a lot of close competition. Gifford Hawn was at the pond sailing his 65 and agreed to sail my spare Soling. He did quite well and Martin and I very much appreciated his jumping in and competing to give us an official event. Martin was as sharp as ever and did the best in the series. The winds were light and some times non-existent which added a lot of challenge to mark roundings.

We had 5 Solings at the pond on Saturday. Peter Eschman (671), Martin Rexius (#79), Bill Rowen (#596), and Mike Wilson (01 & 77). Mike invited a friend to sail his second boat. Conditions at the pond were heavy air most of the time, but strong gusts were impossible to sail and had the potential to be quite destructive -- at these times the air was brown with dust blowing off the dirt parking lot to the north of the pond. During an early test sail, one interval of heavy gusts caused 01 to lose its rig, which cracked the mast base where the metal fitting seats between the mast base and in the holder on the deck. This damage put 01 out of commission. Mike's second boat (77) developed an electrical problem and was also out of commission. Bill was able to do a bit of somewhat hair-raising test sailing, and Martin sailed for a bit as well. Much of the time, the conditions were OK for heavy air sailing, but the unpredictable gust intervals lasting for a minute or two were dangerous. After conferring pond-side, we decided that discretion was the better part of valor, and called off racing for the day.
