We raced 10 heats today in mostly cloudy conditions. Winds were moderate with most of the time with some strong gusts and lulls. Southerly breezes took turns with unpredictable wind shifts, as usual for the pond. Racing was close with many lead changes. All heats were sailed starting south with port roundings of south center yellow, SE orange, NE orange, north center yellow and then back south to finish. We called off one heat when a woman pedestrian fell in the pond while trying to retrieve a dog that had fallen in. Mike used the rescue bag to help the woman climb out using the stairs.

A beautiful day at the pond with moderate winds off and on. It allowed for a few races around the pond twice. Bob Orchard was RD until the last 3 races when John helped out. Unfortunately during the first race John's transmitter fell in the pond. He was able to dry it out and got it going for the third and fourth races. It turns out plugging the battery pack into the transmitter before it is completely dry is a big mistake. It fried the transmitter.

Three skippers showed up but Rich's electronics proved to be so fickle that we couldn't get in even one start so racing was abandoned for the day.

We raced 10 heats today in moderate winds much of the time. Tingly-typical random direction changes resulted in close racing with many lead changes. Everyone finished in first place at least once. All heats were sailed starting south with starboard roundings of SE orange, SW green, N center yellow, then back south to finish.

Winds were the usual light and variable for the first hour and picked up a little the second hour. We did eight races yellow, green at each end with 4 races starting north and 4 starting south. On the first race Greg got his keel caught on the second bouy. That created a delay trying to get him unstuck and resulted in our only getting in 8 races.

Four skippers met at the pond on Saturday. Racing was close with many position changes. Everyone finished first at least once. We sailed a variety of courses, but after heat 3 we settled in on starting north, NE orange to port, north center yellow to port, SE orange to starboard, south center yellow to starboard and north to finish. Winds were light and shifty at times, but we often had a good light to moderate breeze. We had fun.

Two boats, Bob and John had problems causing them to miss some races and Bob to have to withdraw.

The first race going south resulted in everyone getting seriously bogged down in a mass of leaves. The rest of the day had races to the north.
